

Neandertals were typically five feet - six inches tall, stout, with a heavyset bone structure and an enhanced musculature.

Progressive color proof

The skull exhibits a prominent browridge and a flattened cranium with a braincase larger than that of modern humans.

Domestic 'Presorted First Class' letter rate < 1 ounce

Hair is assumed to act as additional insulation.

Illustrated inside booklet cover flap